Call for Presenters

Okinawa JALT is pleased to announce a call for papers for our online Trends in Language Teaching 2022 (TLT2022) conference to be held on Sunday, 30 January.

The theme for this year's TLT conference is the "Challenge of Change". The past couple of years have been challenging for educators around the world, both as a direct result of the COVID-19 pandemic and due to the various secondary issues that have cropped up in the wake of the pandemic. We invite anyone who would like to communicate how they have dealt with any of the many challenges they have faced during the past year or two and what suggestions they have for others in similar situations.

Keynote Speaker:
Dorothy Zemach

"Hell in the Hallways: Future-Proofing Your Career"

Dorothy Zemach taught ESL and other foreign languages (including one she's not fluent in) for over 20 years in Asia, Africa, and the US. She holds an MA in TESL from the School for International Training in Vermont, USA. Now she concentrates on writing, editing, and publishing ELT materials and textbooks and conducting teacher training workshops. Her areas of specialty and interest are teaching writing, teaching reading, academic English, testing, and humor. She is a frequent plenary speaker at international conferences and is active on social media.

The conference welcomes the following types of synchronous presentations:

- Research presentations (25 minutes + 5 minute Q&A)
- Best practice presentations (25 minutes + 5 minute Q&A)
- Lightning presentations on any language teaching-related topic (3 minutes)

We also welcome the following types of asynchronous presentations:

- Virtual poster presentations (submitted as an image or PDF file for asynchronous presentation via an online gallery)
- Less-than-5-minute recorded presentations on any of the above (please link to a YouTube video)

Please check our website for additional details and conference fees. Post-conference publication opportunities are available.
